MEMORANDUM FOR THE DDCI

SUBJECT: Distribution of Intelligence Board Documents

- 1. Sometime ago you raised a question with respect to the distribution of Board documents. Now that the survey of NIE recipients is underway, we would seem to have an appropriate context within which to present recommendations to the Board on the broader problem of dissemination of the wide variety of Board documents other than estimates. Accordingly, we have prepared a draft memorandum for the Board which outlines the problem and makes some general recommendations, and two annexes which show the details of the primary distribution of Board documents.
- 2. For the most part, the distribution pattern has evolved over the years from old IAC or USCIB lists, augmented by periodic requests of persons of appropriate authority from other agencies or within CIA who considered that they had a need-to-know. You will note in Table A of the attached draft that distribution within CIA is about half of the total distribution. This, of course, stems to a considerable degree from the coordinating role of CIA in virtually all intelligence activities and the fact that CIA provides chairmen, secretariat staffing or special liaison for numerous committees, working groups, and special projects. We might point out that Mr. Amory recently effected a reduction of the order of 50 percent in the distribution of Board documents within his area.
- 3. The internal CIA distribution is presented for your information in Table C which we do not propose to distribute to the Board. In view of the extent of this distribution in contrast to that of the other agencies, as set forth in Tables A and B, you may wish to request a thorough review of dissemination in some areas of CIA prior to distribution of the attached memorandum to the Board. In that event modified Tables A and B could be circulated, as appropriate.

UNITED STATES INTELLIGENCE BOARD

MEMORANDUM FOR THE UNITED STATES INTELLIGENCE BOARD

SUBJECT: Distribution of USIB Documents

- 1. Now that the Intelligence Board has been operating for some length of time it would appear appropriate for the Board to review generally the question of the distribution of papers which are circulated as official documents of the Board. One facet of the problem is being treated in the survey of the dissemination of national intelligence estimates, recently authorized by the Board (USIB-M-34, item 6). However, there remains the additional, and in some respects more complicated, problem of determining the appropriate distribution for the extremely wide variety of papers other than estimates which are issued and circulated by the Secretariat in the name of the Board. Although no categorization of these latter documents is entirely satisfactory, they can be classified broadly for this purpose as "recurring" and non-recurring".
- 2. A considerable number of Board documents fall into the recurring category, such as agenda, minutes, post mortems, validity studies, and the quarterly estimates program. The distribution lists for these series were mainly inherited from predecessor organizations; the requirements seem to have evolved largely on the basis of requests through the offices of past IAC and USCIB principals, committee chairmen or the separate functional offices of CIA. For many of these series, distribution in the community is of the order of 80 copies.

In addition, various non-recurring types of documents/circulated in the community in the name of the Board.

3. A "standard" distribution (see Table, A), which also is largely inherited, is given to these documents, except when the originator of the paper, the Board or Chairman of the Board instructs otherwise or, in the absence of such instructions, the Executive Secretary considers that the circumstances appear to warrant a different distribution. In this latter case the Executive Secretary determines the distribution on an ad hoc basis, in the light of factors such as the sensitivity of the document, the need-to-know principle and guidance from the Board or Chairman in prior analogous cases.

4. Recommendations:

- a. That the "standard" distribution and distributions for particular recurring document series continue to be made on the basis of requirements forwarded by the separate Board members, and that the responsibility for any further distribution by the separate departments and agencies (including the determination of need-to-know) continue to rest with the separate Board members.
- b. That the Board members note the existing distributions (Tables A thoroughly, and B), review their internal requirements/ and forward to the USIB

  Secretariat within one month notification of their separate new standing requirements for standard distribution and for particular recurring series.
- c. That the distribution of certain non-recurring types of documents continue to be determined by the Board, the Chairman, or, when necessary, by the Executive Secretary.
